"I want the court to prove that political influence stops the prosecution of certain cases," said the politician.

"I yesterday demanded that the trial Attorney O'Brien take over certain cases that I have asked should be prosecuted, but which Mr. Mahoney has guaranteed."

"In court I was asked if I was proved because Curley moved him. I told them I was only proved because unwholesome food sellers were not being prosecuted. I don't mind going back to regular police work at all."

"The butcher Kurand, whom I prosecuted yesterday, was up on similar charges recently a not it was shown that John J. Burke of Blue-bird, shipped him the cattle."

"I have found beef in the possession of Kurand and others which was smeared with purple ink in imitation of the government approval stamp. To think of people being permitted to sell this diseased meat food is shameful!"

"I have been told that a child in Brookline died from tuberculosis recently after drinking 'certified' milk that was really the product of a violently tubercular herd of cattle."

"Other officers and myself have seized at one time 116,000 lots of raw meat and decayed olives. To not prosecute those who sell them is a crime."

Health Commissioner Mahoney, who became famous during the first Curley administration for his special campaign against unfit foods, faced an "unhappy" statement of Mr. McCaffrey to the court yesterday.

Dr. Mahoney retorted the statement of McCaffrey.

"We have very good conditions here and keep a watchful eye on all food coming into Boston," he declared.

"There was no previous case against Mr. Kurand that I know of," Deputy Commissioner Mulvaney who worked with McCaffrey on the case verified this.

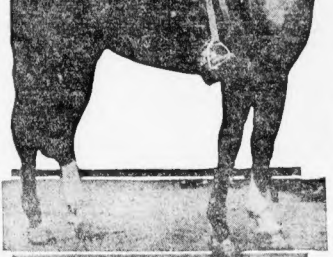

THREE VICTIMS OF DROWNING BURIED

Triple funeral services for Charles F. Johnson, Richard and Ernest Ghantz, the three Malden men who were drowned off Swampscott last Sunday while out fishing, were held this afternoon from the home of 12 Theodore Johnson of No. 19 Elmbridge street, Malden. Mrs. Johnson is a sister of the Ghantz brothers and a sister-in-law of Johnson.

Services were conducted by Rev. Newton F. Sumner, pastor of the First Swedish Methodist Church, Boston.

Eighteen pall bearers composed of members from the Scandinavian Brotherhood of America, the Swedish Order of Vasa and the Iron Moulders' Union, escorted the three men to Forest Dale Cemetery.

The three men were well known in the Swedish section of Malden. They were prominent in Swedish activities in Greater Boston.

WIDOW CUT OFF IN WALL AS ADVENTURESS

New York, April 18.—A remarkable document has been filed in Newburgh by the executors of the estate of Frank Vincent Burton, cotton merchant and turf enthusiast, in answer to the contest of his widow, Mrs. Clara Hyatt Burton, whom he will cut off.

Lacking her in alleged intrigue with the late Charles T. Yorke, Chicago traction magnate, and "divers other men," the executors, among whom are two sons and a brother of the millionaire, declared that she was not fit to share in the estate.

Burton died last March. He held a $500,000 interest in Burton Brothers, cotton converters. His estate is valued at $1,300,000.

"PRIMED," SAYS WIDOW.

The present Mrs. Burton was married to the cotton man on November 26, 1915. She and her husband were in the city in July, 1920. He will favored his children and referred to the widow in this case.

"Prior to my marriage I made ample provision for my support."

The answer sets forth evidence purporting to establish that Mrs. Burton for years subsisted on financial proceeds from various men in the United States and in Europe.

In each instance are quoted letters in which the writer, reputed to be Mrs. Burton, lamented the departure of the man addressed, berated him for desertion and demands re-compensation.

"PROBED HER PAST."

It is recounted that she threatened Burton when they separated in 1920.

Because of this attitude, Burton investigated her career, diving into the contents of a trunk containing 200 or more letters, which the document avers, "revealed to him the facts here related."

The answer quotes letters from Sam H. Power of London from and to Marie Fritz Brink of Germany. Records of the Royal Supreme Court of London are quoted to show about Gustave Philippe for "murder" and lost, and that she sued him for breach of promise.

HEROES OF '75 HONORED BY THOUSANDS

Boston, Lexington, Concord and other cities and towns began early today the celebration of the 147th anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord of the War of the Revolution.

Boston also began the celebration of the 10th anniversary of the hero's birth as a city.

Though the actual date is May 1, Mayor Curley and the city fathers decided to begin the ceremonies today in conjunction with the services for Patriots' Day.

On May 1, the actual date of the anniversary, there will be a commemorative exercises at Faneuil Hall and the dedication of a permanent memorial of the day.

The main features of the day started with a formal flag raising in which both city and national flags were sent fluttering to the tops of their flagpoles.

COPY FAMOUS RIDES.

This was followed at 9:30 by services at North Square and Eliot square, Roxbury, where "Paul Revere" and "William Dawes" started on their ride to Battle Green, Lexington.

At 10 o'clock the two "rides" started. Sergeant Leon Ayres of the headquarters troop, 101st Cavalry, M. N. G., rode for Paul Revere and Sergeant Henry C. Lambert of the same organization for William Dawes. Each had an escort of six men.

Ayres started from the North Square after the conclusion of Captain Ayres' talk. In which the speaker had drawn a lesson of preparation from the ride of Paul Revere and Dawes.

Following the route taken by Revere 147 years ago, Sergeant Lambert rode out to Brookline Village and thence along Harvard street to College Corner. At the Edward Devotion school there were other orators, at which Major Ralph C. Mulholland, T. S. A., was the speaker. Mulholland was followed by a Girl Scout troop, Samuel K. Nelson, director of playgrounds in Brookline, was in charge of the arrangements in that town.

Ayres followed the route of Paul Revere through Charlestown, Boston, Vt., Medford and Arlington to Lexington.

At three p. m. the official celebration of the 10th anniversary of the incorporation of Boston as a city.

Harvey N. Shepard was to be the orator of the day.

CAMBRIDGE CELEBRATES.

There are other features of the celebration during the day, including athletic meetings, children's festival in the Common, indoor sports festival and the open air festival at Parkman Bandstand on the Common, with music, singing, and addresses by Mayor Curley and motion pictures.

Cambridge also celebrated the day. There was a parade from City Hall at 2:30, flag raising ceremony at the Public Library lawn, services at Harvard square before the statue of Charles Sumner and welcome to the rider "Dawes" and his escort. The parade disbanded at Central square.

At Concord the day was ushered in with the solemn ringing of bells, as they were rung that morning, 147 years ago, when the war came that the British were marching from Boston.

There is a game between the Concord baseball team and that of Northham High School on the Concord Centre playground at 10 o'clock. The Middlesex School and County Day School play in North Concord at the same time. "Ides the Concord High School open its season with a contest for prizes. A track meet will be held in the afternoon between the pupils of the Concord and Waltham High schools.

MAINEAC IN $50,000 CONVENT FIRE

Montreal, April 18.—Police today celebrated their search for a religious pyromaniac following the burning last night with a loss of $100,000, of the historic Notre Dame convent here, the third important Catholic edifice in Canada to be destroyed in less than a month.

The trail of the suspect first was traced April 14, when a fireman fighting a conflagration which destroyed the Church of the Sacred Heart here with a loss of $100,000, heard a man in the crowd of spectators exclaim:

"St. Bridget's will be the next, and then I will get the rest."

The man escaped, but an investigation at that time convinced the police a scientific firebug, specializing in crossed electric wires, had caused the Church of the Sacred Heart fire, as well as that a week earlier, which destroyed the famous facade of St. Anne de Beauregard, housing the famous shrine of St. Anne, which was known as "The Lourdes of America."

In both cases, the fires were found to have been started by crossed electric wires. Further investigation showed that a man posing as an electrician had sought admittance to St. Vincent de Paul's Refuge and the Dauf and Dumb Institute, both operated by Catholic nuns in this city. He obtained entrance to St. Vincent de Paul's and a fire was averted there shortly afterward by the discovery of crossed wires.

The superior at the Dauf and Dumb Institute became suspicious and refused to admit the "electrician" to that institution.

BOYS CONFESS THEY STOLE 13 AUTOS

Springfield, April 18.—"We just took them for fun. Our old friends liked to ride," was the excuse given to Detective John A. McNeil and George W. Bicknell and Charles H. Stanley, aged nineteen, and John H. LeVell, aged eighteen, when arrested on the charge of stealing thirteen automobiles valued at $40,000.

Both youths already have court records for similar escapades. Stanley served a jail sentence at Providence, R. I., and LeVell was fined $75 in the Springfield Court last month.

Their arrests resulted from an epidemic of lost cars all taken from the city's streets and driven about until the gasoline became exhausted when they were abandoned and eventually picked up.

The youths told the police, they began March 17 to make a nightly practice and since then kept back. To the best of their memory, thirteen cars were taken in that period, four the night of April 14.

Both youths were locked up, and will be arraigned in District Court tomorrow.

Stanley escaped from headquarters when arrested for the Providence police over a year ago. He had been in his cell and bent his back enough to require aid. His capture followed a few hours later.

FIRE DRIVES 19 TO STREET IN ROXBURY

One fireman was hurt and several were overcome by smoke at a fire which did $1,000 damage and drove the sixteen occupants of No. 41 Lawrence avenue, Roxbury, into the street in their night clothing to day.

The building, a three-story frame dwelling house, is owned by Henry A. Aaronson, who occupies an apartment on the lower floor with his wife and three children.

On the first floor live Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Lewis, two children, Mrs. Lewis' mother and sister and a sister of Mr. Lewis, while on the second floor live the seven members of the Allen family.

All fell in their bare feet and night gowns when awakened by the flames.

The flames started in the kitchen of the Aaronson home, and worked up to the roof through an air shaft, filling the house with smoke, and endangering the house at No. 41 Lawrence avenue.

Fireman Albert F. Murphy of Engine No. 22 sustained deep cuts on the right hand when a shattered window pane fell upon him. He was taken to the City Hospital, the cuts stitched up and returned to duty at the fire.

Lieutenant Marie N. Riley and a number of men with him in the building were partially overcome by the smoke fumes, but revived after being in the open air for a short time, and went back to the fight. Deputy Fire Chief D. P. Bennett was in charge of the apparatus.

$75,000 Loss in Natick Fire as 100 Flee

Natick, April 18.—Fires of incalculable origin today destroyed the buildings in Natick, and drove more than $75,000 damage and drove 100 persons from their beds in the early morning.

After the Natick and Framingham departments had battled with the flames for hours, the fire was out on street in the ruins of one of the buildings.

For a time the houses seemed to be burning. The flames had taken great headway before the flames were checked. Low water pressure had helped them here and there.

The fire started in the Haywood building, No. 17 Washington street, a three-story frame building owned by Christ Blinn and occupied by stores on the ground floor and by firemen quarters on the upper floors.

Police investigation has failed to disclose any cause for the fire to originate, who turned in the alarm or discovered the blaze.

The Haywood block was burning freely when Fire Chief John J. Barry arrived by ambulance to a second alarm, he went to Framingham for assistance.

By the time the Framingham apparatus arrived the fire had gained the intervening mass and spread to the three-story building, which was a brick structure occupied by the United Insurance Company, a rooming house, the P. A. Lumber Company and the shirt manufacturing plant of Porter Brothers on the two upper floors.

The Haywood block was doomed from the first. The lack of water pressure and the wind helped the firemen and the brick block followed the frame building to smoke as ashes.

No one was living in the brick building, but the damage there was heavy, estimated by fire insurance men at close to $100,000.

The flaming sparks that snowed over the surrounding neighborhood set fire to the Natick Theatre, a moving picture house. The firemen saved it.

Then the smoke hurried the fire to a lodging house operated by E. L. Steward, a three-story frame structure in which about twenty persons were sleeping.

AROUSING BY FLAMES

The crawling of the smoke from the building roused the occupants and they all went out a door for air, while fighting the flames from above.

The damage here was slight and was done mostly by water.

As soon as Chief Barry realized the fire, he threw a bucket of water about the place and started the work of checking up the occupants of the Haywood block. All were accounted for.

The fire appeared under control in the smoking rooms when daylight came, but later about 10 o'clock the Barker block burned in flames and the flames again in the wreckage. They were soon extinguished.

The fire is believed to have started in a frame oil adjoining the frame block. This is occupied by Porter Peters, who keeps a general store. The cause had not been determined at the time the firemen reached the spot.

The frame building was sixty-five years old and at one time was used as the Natick Town Hall and later as a high school building.

SHOWERS PREDICTED FOR TONIGHT AND THURSDAY

Unsettled weather with probably occasional showers tonight and Thursday, with not much change in temperature was the official forecast today. Freezing temperatures were expected during the night in New England, Northfield, Vt. recording 39, and Greenville, Me. 42.

"SALLY" BOYLE PURPOSELY LEFT IN JAIL

Fear Girl Would Be Kidnaped by Members of Wilson Gang if She Were Bailed Out

Fear that "Sally" Boyle will be kidnaped away by confederates of the late "Doc" Wilson gang of gunmen if freed on bail is said to be the reason she remains in the East Cambridge Jail.

"Sally" was the sweetheart of Wilson until they recently reached the starting of the ways. She held a material witness against the leader of the gunmen, indicted in the shooting of Metropolitan Police Officer Sullivan on April 9.

Her bail was set at $10,000. It is said that bail could have been secured by the girl's mother and friends long ago, but that fear that she would be kidnaped and whisked from the city has led them to let her remain under guard.

It was "Sally" Boyle who sat with "Doc" Wilson in a stolen car upon the night when Phillips and another of her intimates were shot. The shooting of Phillips was reported by the Boston Herald.

Made in a world-famed laboratory. Sold by all druggists.

Says One Woman Thought She Was Happy with Her Husband Until Her Mother Told Her She Had No Reason to Be.

When a couple get married they both get a lot of relatives, and if it weren't for these relatives a man and wife would be forced to lead their own lives.

But thanks to relatives, married people don't have to think for themselves.

No matter what your business is, if you want to get on in life, you must be able to take care of your own affairs.

They do everything for us except pay our bills.

But some married couples are so independent that they don't think their lives belong to themselves.

Mothers-in-law are what keep a man from committing suicide.

They're not scared of the law, after they're afraid of the right one.

One guy's family law made it so bad for him that he thought he was a woman.

A woman may have a lot of her own, but her mind belongs to her mother.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and glossy. Mixing the Sage Tea and sulphur brings at once, though it is not permanent. An easier way is to use the ready-made preparation improved by the addition of olive oil, which is a large bottle at this time. This is a very good preparation. It is a very good preparation.

Q. T. L. Bending—The single also tuner in your antenna circuit can be a cheap one, but it is not good to receive the best results from your tuning coil and substitute a variable condenser. If the condenser works, the trouble is probably with your crystal. Code is sent generally at a lower wave length than broadcast, which explains why you get that and not broadcast.

J. A. J. Portland—The figures in the photo mounted in many of the various coils is no indication of the number of turns required in the actual coil.

R. C. New Bedford—The wave length tuning of an instrument is not an indication of its range. With a V. T. detector and a three size impedance, you should be able to pick up all the powerful train stations. It is impossible to say how much you will get as the range of a receiver depends largely on the strength of the signal received.

J. E. Lawrence—In the booklet which you show there is no indication of the crystal detector, so far as it can take out. Put the detector where you have shown the condenser, and shoot the condenser around the ground. There is no need of the first coil in the antenna circuit unless you wish to get the larger wave lengths. The primary and secondary of the slide transformer are not connected by any wire. The current in the primary induces a current in the secondary by electromagnetic induction.

C. F. North Andover—Any circuit from No. 17 to No. 26 would be all right for winding coils. The larger the wire the more turns you would have to make.

W. W. Waver—Houghen—You would most certainly have to be in order to manufacture a right coil. I do not believe you could on a large scale of a New York firm for the patent rights was refused.

J. E. Everett—With the set you describe, you should have no difficulty in getting Bedford Road enough, although you have not given me de-

RADIO TO ACT AS PHYSICIAN TO SAILORS

By A. B. HOBBS
Radio, it was said no longer only on the machine chart of compasses and the medical services of the chief cook in the ship.

The Radio Corporation of America, which controls most of the big shore wireless stations, announced it has made arrangements with the Seamen's Church Institute of New York to give free medical service to their greatest risk.

Among them are: Cecil Cunningham, popular prima donna of the Greenwich Village Follies, who will be the attraction of "The History of the U. S. A." and others.

Gertrude Crowley, vaudeville star, who will sing "The Lady and the Tiger" and "The Lady and the Tiger" and other popular songs.

Other popular songs: "The Lady and the Tiger" and "The Lady and the Tiger" and other popular songs.

The Boston American is the first paper in New England to stage a radio concert. It was the first paper to broadcast the final ball game.

If you have not seen a radio concert, you will find it a most interesting and profitable experience.

The Victor superlative radio, in connection with the radio concert, will bring the music to the home of the listener.

Can you do this in your spare time? Yes, you can. It is a most interesting and profitable experience.

Participation, together with subscription, are provided for in the radio concert.

BOSTON NEEDS MORE
Boston still lacks enough places where individuals can listen to a broadcasting concert at any time.

Most of the radio stations have put in receiving stations for the display of their sets, but they are rarely open to the general public.

Miss Edith Bennett, the first girl to enter the Boston American's social bicycle run, will start from Copley square.

Several hundred radio operators, on land and sea, will be in the city of Boston, Mass.

Mass. Bennett's program for the benefit of the radio concert, will be a most interesting and profitable experience.

BOSTON NEEDS MORE
Boston still lacks enough places where individuals can listen to a broadcasting concert at any time.

Most of the radio stations have put in receiving stations for the display of their sets, but they are rarely open to the general public.

Miss Edith Bennett, the first girl to enter the Boston American's social bicycle run, will start from Copley square.

Several hundred radio operators, on land and sea, will be in the city of Boston, Mass.

Mass. Bennett's program for the benefit of the radio concert, will be a most interesting and profitable experience.

Because we are determined to satisfy those who buy our apparel, we think before the need; not just of women in general, but of each type of woman. This is a Little Shop meant for women. It tries to be consistent in selection, and in service. Others may do it in a bigger way, but we will not allow it to be done in a better way. Come, and see if we are not living up to our belief, for your good.

What About Los Angeles?

Prejudice Plays Havoc With Profits

The use of intelligent advertising to emphasize a well conducted progressive business invariably results in a very large success.

Advertisers who understand the power of advertising and apply it intelligently are not concerned with petty annoyances in the conduct of a newspaper.

They analyze their needs and buy their advertising to promote their interests.

They do not wish a newspaper to interfere with their business but tell them how to conduct it.

And on the other hand they do not wish to tell the newspaper how it should be conducted.

Their buying of advertising is purely a business matter based entirely on the circulation.

The completeness with which a newspaper covers its territory and the results that come from good advertising.

To this class of advertisers The Los Angeles Examiner makes the direct appeal for business and guarantees a larger Sunday circulation at a lower rate and a better circulation rate for copy than any other paper in this territory.

A larger daily circulation than any other morning paper in Southern California at a lower daily rate and a daily circulation among intelligent, progressive people with money to spend.

New people are coming to Los Angeles and they come with nothing but money to spend. They want to buy everything that contributes to their comfort within their means.

This class prefers The Los Angeles Examiner as shown by statistics.

The old timers have their fixed buying habits and practically everything they need and the newcomers have everything yet to buy and their trading habits are to acquire.

Los Angeles is no longer a country town or a great metropolis rapidly growing. It is a city with a future no big, but none can produce how big.

The Los Angeles Examiner as indicated by its growth will be the best newspaper that money and intelligence can make.

It covers every phase of human activities, presents news and features that please every type of mind. It has daily and Sunday what readers want and that accounts for its popularity.

In the acquiring of business The Examiner makes no attempt at a large volume at a sacrifice of price or other concerns.

It endeavors to treat all advertisers fairly by making to them the same rates that it makes to their competitors regardless of how much space they are to use.

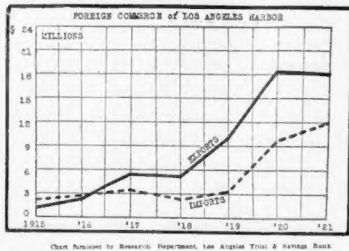

It carries enough business to be profitable and yet too much to make it arrogant or sluggish.

Therefore it is active constantly in the interest of Southern California.

It's never too busy to promote what's best for our people. It's never so overloaded as to make progressive effort wearisome and tedious.

None of its sections or departments are so good that it cannot be improved.

So we are after constant improvement.

The growth of Los Angeles harbor has attracted world-wide notice and many steamship companies both passenger and freight have placed Los Angeles on their line of operations.

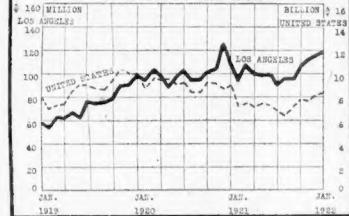

In the last past period of five years the growth in volume of exports and imports through this harbor increased 195%.

The shipments going and coming via the Panama Canal as well as to the Orient.

One item is conspicuous the cotton exported to Japan in 1920 had a value of $146,163.

During the first six months of 1921 this single commodity had increased to $2,787,874 for Japan alone.

The Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation Ltd. has recognized the importance of Los Angeles Harbor and is now building a 12,000-ton drydock and otherwise adding to its investments here.

That Los Angeles is the white spot in American business statistics is proved by this chart.

That constant upward trend shows business stability and progress.

Argument hasn't a "leg to stand on" when it comes to comparing bank clearings in Los Angeles with those of the United States.

Here the upward trend proves the continual prosperity of the Pacific Southwest.

We wish all the country was as prosperous as Los Angeles but while it isn't the suggestion naturally follows that you concentrate your advertising and selling forces in Los Angeles Examiner territory.

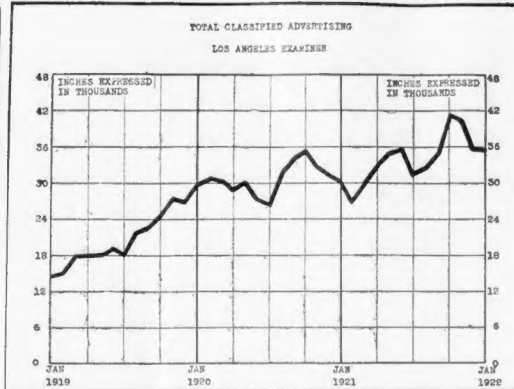

The total income to circulation of all the daily and Sunday newspapers of Los Angeles between Sept. 28, 1918, and Sept. 30, 1921, was $1,754.

Of these there came to The Examiner $91,978 or 5.1%, which is equal to 7 out of 12 of which will be shown when the next audit is made in this copy by the A.B.C.

As more than half of all new subscribers prefer The Examiner and are willing to pay $1.05 a month for it all the others are lost. We must conclude that as an advertising medium it is entitled to like recognition.

The new families who come with nothing but money must buy household, farm or business equipment. The articles you manufacture.

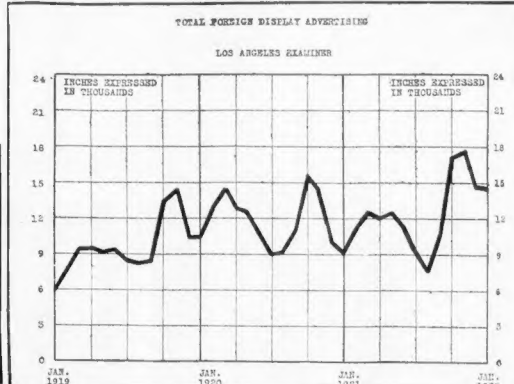

Los Angeles has always been a classified advertising town one newspaper here has carried more classified than any other paper in the world.

See how the classified lineage in The Examiner is growing more than a million Want Ads in 1921.

The classified advertisements in the Los Angeles Examiner are growing in number and lines used faster than in any other paper in United States.

This is no doubt due to two causes the constant growth in circulation and the results obtained by classified advertisers.

The advertising agencies of this country choose The Los Angeles Examiner to carry their campaigns in a constantly increasing ratio as this chart shows.

The lesson taught by the ups and downs of this line is clear to us. It is the agencies haven't yet learned all of the truth about Examiner territory or they'd use space in the summer months to a greater extent.

This is a year 'round market the railroads tell us they handle more incoming baggage in summer than in winter more cars of furniture and household goods arrive (fruits and produce) in June and July than in December and January.

Here is the real test of a paper's pulling power the classified is not "dolled up"—no art is used just the simple statement of a want.

The thing wanted and the person wanting it must be brought together.

The fifty thousand newcomers who set up homes in Los Angeles who start new factories or new businesses have many wants.

They are the readers of The Examiner.

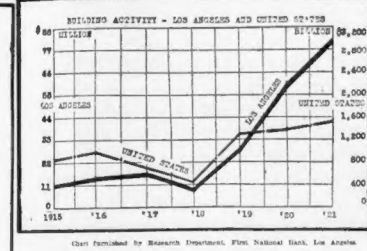

They are the folks without established buying connections and permanent habits to them Examiner Want Ads bring opportunity.

Here we only know the reasons by name and buying and selling doesn't know that.

Last year out of 12 persons who became new subscribers to Los Angeles newspapers seven of them chose The Examiner.

That is one of the reasons why the foreign display advertising so constantly increases. Another reason is because it pulls.

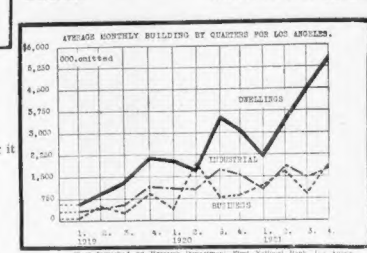

A third reason is the unusual co-operation furnished by The Examiner Merchandising Service Department the personal contact of the men who cultivate friendly relations with the dealers encourage window displays and co-operation with the advertising.

This chart shows the comparison of building activity in Los Angeles and United States.

There's hardly a block within the city without its new building of some kind.

Although building of every nature is proceeding unabated there exists demand beyond supply one reason for this being the constant increase in population.

Fifty thousand persons (more or less) come to settle in Los Angeles each year.

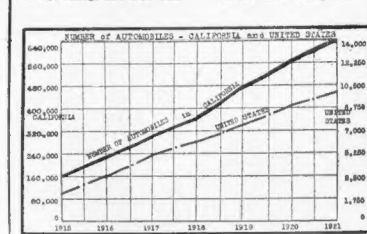

The housing problem has been grave. It has been the necessity for more business buildings.

The number of houses and industrial and business buildings erected in Los Angeles are shown on this chart.

Regularly the building permits exceed those of any other city except Chicago and New York.

During the year 1919 two per cent of the building done in 145 cities of the United States was done in Los Angeles or 1921 this percentage had risen to 3 per cent of the building operations for the same number of cities.

The development of the City of Los Angeles in all lines of endeavor necessitated the expenditure of $6,072,500 for building during 1920 and $82,612,500 during 1921.

The 1922 automobile registration in California is beyond 180,000 there were 848,000 in 1921.

The automobile production in the United States for 1921 was 24% less than 1920 in volume passenger cars manufactured 1,531,000 trucks 145,000.

Of these 193,912 came to California.

Up to 1918 the rate of increase was about the same comparing California and the United States but since 1918 California shows marked growth as the chart indicates.

In 1915 The Los Angeles Sunday Examiner had 140,000 circulation. In 1921 it had 246,000. At the end of January, 1922 it had increased to 261,000.

The Daily Examiner had grown from 85,000 to 125,000.

The monthly subscription price is $1.05.

The other morning and Sunday paper is sixty cents.

What better indication could be had of the approval of the people than this constant upward trend in Sunday and Daily circulation?

It shows they approve of the Examiner way of making a newspaper.

The growth in circulation is greater in proportion than the increase in population.

BOY HUSBAND'S PLEA SPURNED BY DANGER

New York, April 19.—A pathetic picture of young Robert, fifteen, of the city, school student, who played with fifteen-old Geneva Mitchell, Penn. dancing girl in the "Polo" place, pleading with her in front of the theatre at 8 o'clock in the morning to leave her mother and live with him, was drawn in her affidavit in the Supreme Court in her affidavit.

"Robert met me early on the morning of March 8, after the performance, in front of the theatre, and said he was making a last attempt to have me join him at the Hotel Collingwood, where he had taken rooms," she says. "When I refused, he asked me for my wedding ring, I gave it to him and from that day to this I have not seen him."

The young dancer, through her lawyer and legal guardian, Henry W. Shover, began her suit for maintenance.
